

Sample Interview Questions

How did you first become involved in entrepreneurship and outsourcing?

You talk a lot about freedom in your book, but what do you mean by that? How do you define freedom?

What is a freedom business?

What are the benefits of building a freedom business?

Can anyone start a freedom business? Are there particular skills that are needed?

What are the common problems that new entrepreneurs commonly encounter?

What are the biggest mistakes that you would counsel others to avoid?

What are the most important things to know for people just starting to create a freedom business?

What do you mean when you talk about 'automating' your business?

Is starting a new business risky or expensive?

Are there particular kinds of business that are more suited to your model?

You encourage people to follow their passions and desires in life – what are yours? What do you do with the personal time that your freedom business gives you?

If you had one secret to give to our readers/listeners who are thinking about starting their own business, what would it be?

Where can people find out more information about freedom businesses, outsourcing, and automation?

How can people contact you?